

The MiDS are enjoying singing again: come and join us!

The Mid Devon Singers has not met since spring 2020 until recently but was able to meet from Friday 11 June, meeting at Swallow Court, Jersey Farm, near Junction 27, in the courtyard.

It was great to welcome many new members and see the group in action again, meeting old friends, making new ones, and enjoying the drinks and snacks at the reception. Singing in the courtyard did work, acoustically, as we expected and singing for just over one hour simply to enjoy and introduce some of the songs we are singing this term: I Feel the Earth Move and Will You Still Love Me Tomorrow (by Carole King), Here Comes the Sun (George Harrison) and (The Sun'll Come Out), Tomorrow (from Annie).

We'll continue at Swallow Court until we resume singing at Halberton Village Hall from Friday 25 June, at 7.30pm, following COVID requirements. We look forward to performing at the Uffculme Show on Sunday 5 September.

The MiDS is a social and musical group. There are no auditions in our inclusive, all age, mixed choir that includes first-timers and experienced singers; children and families are welcome. We don't sing one type of music; we sing a little of everything across all styles from past to present. We're friendly, not cliquey and just enjoy singing together. Anyone interested in joining us will be most welcome; please contact us to find out more.

This term, it's free, so come and try us out!
